KOMODO-INDONESIA

Tour Leaders - Torry and Ashleigh

Located in the heart of the coral triangle, Indonesia has some of the greatest marine biodiversity in the world. For this, Kalimaya Dive Resort is perfectly located to provide next level diving year round. At Kalimaya dive resort you can enjoy three distinct types of diving: macro/muck diving, current diving, and coral diving. All this on the doorstep of Komodo National Park.

Indonesia has more species of fish and corals than any other region in the world and the Komodo archipelago is one of the richest marine environments in Indonesia. In the North of Komodo - warm water flows from the Banda Sea providing clearer tropical waters and pristine hard corals. To the south - cool water flows from the Indian Ocean and deep water up-welling's bring masses of plankton providing nutrient rich waters to feed soft coral polyps, other invertebrates, reef fish and manta rays.

Whilst diving in Komodo does come with it's challenges (the waters surrounding the islands are current prone and surrounded by turbulent eddies), you will be rewarded by exciting diving. Dive sites vary from rock pinnacles and walls with dense coverage of soft and hard corals, sponges and prolific fish life, to fringing reefs, sea mounts and channels where you can find manta rays filtering the plankton rich waters.

Your trip would not be complete without an island visit to see the Komodo Dragons unique to this area. This is a location not to be missed, Komodo has it all!

KALIMAYA DIVE RESORT

Almost every little place on Earth seems to be established, discovered, and explored—this applies to both above and below the water level. We have been fortunate to find one of those last untouched places in the heart of Indonesia, right on the doorstep of one of the most exciting dive destinations on our planet.

Designed and built specifically with divers in mind, Kalimaya Dive Resort is on the next frontier, offering some amazing diving experiences. Nestled away in a private bay, Kalimaya Dive Resort ensures a unique diving experience. The house reef offers incredible diving where you can see Bumblebee Shrimp, Paddleflap Rhinopea, Weedy Rhinopea, Candy Crabs, Starry Night Octopus, and so much more.

Current diving is what the strait between Kalimaya Dive Resort, West Komodo, and Gili Banta is particularly famous for. This style of diving includes drift and pinnacle dives in which the currents wash past divers, bringing in nutrients and big schools of fish. These areas attract larger, pelagic creatures including but not limited to black-tip, white-tip, and grey reef sharks, oceanic and reef manta rays, mobula rays, eagle rays, schooling tuna, and jackfish, to name a few.

Coral diving is a nice, relaxed way to explore the beautiful underwater gardens and coral reef habitats. Here, you can take your time to explore sloping reefs, walls, pinnacles, and caverns to enjoy the flora and fauna of these underwater jungles. Get ready to be amazed by some of the healthiest corals in the world, which are home to beautiful reef fish and turtles.

Kalimaya Dive Resort - wake up to the sun. Situated facing east, all bungalows have a direct ocean view so that you can wake up to watch the sun rising over the Komodo Island and Gili Banta Island, and fall asleep to the sound of waves lapping on the ocean.
